19) The Court orders restitution, which is due immediately, in the total amount of $178,000. $100,000 is to be paid to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. $78,000 is to be paid to the minor victim (see below).

Defendant shall execute an annuity contract with Allstate International Assignment Company ("Allstate") providing a stream of payments for the minor victim in this case as restitution. The present value of that annuity contract shall be $78,000, and that shall be the amount of restitution ordered for the minor victim. Defendant is ordered to execute any and all documents required by Allstate and the United States Attorney's Office to accomplish this transaction.

Defendant shall make his $78,000 restitution payment directly to Allstate and not through the Clerk of the Court. Once the payment has been made and proof supplied to Clerk of the Court, the restitution judgment with respect to the minor victim shall be considered paid in full.

The annuity contract with Allstate shall provide for monthly payments to the minor victim of not less than $100 per month up to her 25th birthday, with the residual balance being disbursed as a lump sum to the minor victim at that time. The United States Attorney's Office shall have discretion to set the exact amount of the monthly payment and the lump sum payment, in consultation with Allstate. Given the exigencies of this case, all payments by Allstate shall be made to the minor victim directly (through the appropriate banking channels) and not to a conservator or legal guardian.

The United States Attorney's Office is directed to provide the minor victim's name, date of birth, address and other documentation required to the Clerk's Office and to Allstate.

If the victim's contact information and personal information is not available and the annuity contract has not been executed by December 1, 2009, defendant shall pay the $78,000 directly to the Clerk of the Court, and his restitution obligation with respect to the minor victim shall be deemed satisfied. The minor victim thereafter can make application to the court for those funds upon proof of identity.
